

The diagram below illustrates at a high level the relational nature of entities in CoQIS. A single facility may over time run multiple programmes through CoQIS. Each programme in turn consists of many individual visits.

CoQIS is designed to enable you to easily search and navigate around system information. You are able to access the Standards Assessment Manual (SAM) from either a facility view, or a particular programme view. You can also 'toggle' between facility and programme information, and again between programme and visit information. From within a particular visit you may also navigate back to the facility, or return to the overall programme to view an alternative visit.

A model of the 360 degree navigation

